2. OUR APPROACH

As a responsible business, we are committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in our operations, our supply chain and within the people who work with us or on our behalf.

Our supply chain is diverse and consists of the following:

- new and used motor vehicles, components and products supplied by the relevant vehicle manufacturers, who in turn are required to publish their own modern slavery statements;
- used motor vehicles purchased from private individuals, businesses and other motor retail companies primarily based in the UK; and
- indirect goods, services, products and parts purchased from businesses primarily based in the UK.

We operate a risk-based approach that is designed to enable efforts to be focused where they are most needed and can best help eradicate modern slavery. We monitor the performance of our medium and high-risk suppliers' actions by using indicators to check that they are being effective in complying with their obligations under modern slavery legislation.

As part of our efforts to monitor and reduce the risk of slavery and human trafficking occurring within our supply chains, we have adopted a number of policies and procedures, setting expectations for the conduct of ourselves and those that work with us. This includes:

- the adoption of our Code of Conduct;
- an annual review of what we deem to be any high-risk suppliers to confirm their compliance with our Code of Conduct;
- requiring our suppliers to comply with our contractual standards on ethical practices;
- informing our people through the Company Handbook of the steps that we are taking in relation to managing the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our business and supply chains; and
- operating a Whistleblowing hotline, enabling our people to report and raise any concerns, including those that relate to human rights violations such as modern slavery.

Everyone who works for us is required to complete training on the Jardine Motors Group Code of Conduct and our anti-bribery and corruption policy. Our employees repeat that training every year and we monitor our compliance with this requirement, sending reminders to anyone who is due to complete their training.

This statement is published in accordance with section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 on behalf of Jardine Motors Group UK Limited and its associated wholly owned subsidiary companies. It applies to the financial year ended 31 December 2020.

The board of directors have approved this Statement on 21 April 2021 and have approved Neil Williamson to sign this statement on their behalf.
